

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A computer system provides via a network at least one telephone feature to a telephone of a user. The computer system receives instructions regarding the telephone feature via the network from a graphical user interface operating on a computer of the user.

DC2-242012.3

20120123